

Devil's Night

Hosted by Gentlemen of the Garden to benefit the Ann Norton Sculpture Gardens, Devil's Night has quickly become the It! costume party to attend on Halloween weekend. Attracting more than 500 devilishly clad guests each year from Palm Beach, New York, Miami and beyond, the eighth annual event on Oct. 29th, is set to be the most devilish production this side of Transylvania.

"We give Universal Studios a run for its money," says event co-chairman Kevin Clark, an Ann Norton Sculpture Gardens board member and the creative mind behind the event's macabre dance of choreographed animatronics, light and musical effects. "It just keeps getting better every year, and we're only getting warmed up."

Devil's Night 2010 will include live music from the acclaimed Big Bang Radio, five open bars, a Ketel One ice bar and multiple luges, cuisine from Big Time Restaurant Group (Rocco's Tacos, Grease Burger, City Cellar and City Oyster & Sushi Bar), plus a few knockout surprises from the GOGs.

Organizers include Honorary Chairman Todd Herbst, Co-Chairmen Kevin Allen Clark and Dack Patriarca, and committee members Loy Anderson III, Christopher Dunstan, Ryan Bridger, James Holmes, Jonathan Cameron-Hayes, Bob Eigelberger, Carlos Morrison and Benjamin Macfarland. Co-chaired by Aime Dunstan and Hilary Jordan, the Ladies' Committee includes

To accommodate high demand for last year's sold-out VIP tickets, this year's VIP Devil's Playground will include expanded indoor and outdoor spaces with gourmet catering, air conditioning, private restrooms, dedicated valet parking and afterparty VIP access.

Sponsors include Big Time Restaurant Group, Hy-Lite Productions, Fusedog Media Group and Monarchy, host of the official Devil's Night After Party. For tickets ($150 before Oct. 15, $175 thereafter and $200 at the door; $300 for VIP) or sponsorship information, www.thegog.org.
